ASEAN Regional Seminar: "Toward A More Cohesive and People-Oriented ASEAN: 2015 and Beyond"
Faculty of Social and Political Science, UGM

Tuesday, April 30th 2013

ASEAN Studies Center, FISIPOL UGM in collaboration with Institute of International Studies (IIS) UGM and Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Republik Indonesia, is holding its launching on April 30th 2013. On the same day, a seminar will also take place with the theme of "ASEAN Regional Seminar: Toward A More Cohesive and People-Oriented ASEAN: 2015 and Beyond".

The establishment of ASEAN Studies Center is based on the needs of more strategic involvement from academics to accelerate the process of building a more cohesive ASEAN community which engage more ASEAN people. Thus, as its first contribution to the society, ASEAN Studies Center is willing to organize a regional seminar aimed at identifying challenges and opportunities as well as giving valuable recommendation to policy makers toward the creation of a more cohesive and people-oriented ASEAN 2015 and beyond. This seminar will delve its discussion in line with three ASEAN pillars : political-security community, economic community and socio-cultural community.

The Launching and ASEAN Regional Seminar will take place on:

Day and Date	:	Tuesday, April 30th 2013
Time	:	08.30 – 15.30
Place	:	Auditorium, 5th Floor, Sekolah Pasca Sarjana Universitas Gadjah Mada.

Further information on participant registration, please contact:

Tika Pratiwi
Public Relation of ASEAN Regional Seminar and The Launching 081 – 7681 – 8199
aseanstudiescenter.ugm@gmail.com