Universitas Gadjah Mada and Yogyakarta's High Prosecutor's Office have agreed to establish cooperations in legal aspects of assets management. Signing of the agreement was done by Rector of UGM, Prof. Ir. Dwikorita Karnawati, M.Sc., Ph.D., and Head of the High Prosecutor's Office of Yogyakarta, Tony T. Spontana, S.H., M.Hum, in the UGM Multimedia room on Thursday (6/10).

The agreement regulates legal assistance, deliberation and measures related to asset management. Tony Spontana said his office would also anticipate UGM assets off the campus, including in Kulonprogo, Sleman, Bantul, Gunung Kidul regencies, etc. Tony mentioned this was the second cooperation with UGM where in the first both had collaborated on civil and state administration for anti-corruption.

"We're talking about how assets can efficiently and effectively enliven the institution. Things to be given attention are related to legal aspects that have to be maintained well to prevent from possible problems," he said.

Prof. Ir. Dwikorita said UGM was expected to continue to sustain the mandate as guardian of knowledge, technology and qualified human resource.

"To meet that goal, UGM needs to be supported in terms of infrastructure and assett. We hope this cooperation agreement can follow that up," she concluded.
