Meanwhile, for the doctoral programme, the shortest study time is achieved by Yandi Syukri from Pharmacy Science study programme, Faculty of Pharmacy, who completed the degree in 36 months.

UGM Rector said UGM new graduates have to be the graduates who are able to be qualified leaders and have high moral integrity. According to the Rector. The university graduates have an essential role in the process of disruptive innovation development both in the educational and industrial sectors.

Panut further said currently technology innovation has created a disruption which becomes a hurdle for businessmen. For some businessmen, the scariest thing is not their business competitors but the new technology disruption which can make their service pattern becomes useless. “Technology disruption can seize the market share instantly,” said Panut.

A company or industry has to keep making innovation and transformation in line with technology development in order to maintain their businesses. Panut hopes UGM graduates can utilize those opportunities by developing what they have studied in order to be an innovative and transformative people.

“You also have to be the pioneer in terms of cooperation, synergy, and innovation while working in an institution and as an entrepreneur,” he added.

In the occasion, Panut also announced that currently, UGM ranking is in the 402nd position in the world based on QS World University Ranking. This position has significantly increased compared to the previous year which was in the 501st position. On the other hand, in Asian level, UGM is in the 85th position from the 105th position in the previous year. According to the Rector, these achievements are the result of hard work of all parties. “These achievements are the result of our hard work,” he added.
