In addition to various art performances, various achievements were also announced on that night. Those are various achievements carried out by FH UGM students for the past year, both regionally, nationally, and internationally. Another series of agendas presented by FH UGM in the 74th Anniversary named Fun Bike and Fun Game which was held on Sunday (16/2) morning. Similar to the art night, besides of having art interest, this event shows that the students of the Faculty of Law UGM also have interest in sports.

Sigit said that the two series of events were an effort to strengthen the relationship. It aimed to strengthen the hospitality ties, not only between academicians but also to the alumni.

According to Sigit, all of these things intended to strengthen the enthusiasm that was brought in the implementation of the 74th Anniversary which is summarized in the Latin "Ci vis Pacem Para Iustitiam". The words mean "whoever wants to bring peace then establish peace".

Sigit said that it was this motivation that had been instilled in the academics of FH UGM. "Since they are students, we always need to instil the motivation within themselves. So, to wherever they go after graduating later, they will keep carrying the motivation with them. They will be committed to upholding justice wherever they take action later to bring peace in Indonesia," he explained.

Last, Sigit hopes that at the age of 74, FH UGM can continue contributing to upholding justice in this country. He also hoped that the reputation of the Faculty of Law UGM could rise even higher, not only at the national level but also globally. "As the oldest law faculty in Indonesia, of course, we will continue to strive to be a role model for others," he concluded.
