

PSW UGM Held "Gender-based Leadership" National Seminar

Saturday, 01 August 2009 WIB, By: Teguh

The development of a country should involve the society, regardless the gender. Therefore, each individual have to improve their quality to be potential and qualified human resources. Meanwhile all leaders, women or men, are ideally have the gender-based leadership, which makes them able to accommodate both of men and women importance in various development sectors.

The head of Center for Women Studies of UGM Dr R Ay Siti Hariti Sastriyani conveyed this on Monday (15/6), three days before the start of National Seminar entitled "Gender-Based Leadership". The seminar will be held on Thursday June 18 2009 at the Cakra Kembang Hotel, Kaliurang street Yogyakarta. The seminar was held for lecturers, teachers, women organization, researchers, students, government institution, NGO, legislatives, executives, industry, and public.

Siti Hariti Sastriyani hoped that the activity will improve the gender awareness and develop a gender-based leadership.

(Public Relations of UGM)

Related News

- MST Entrepreneurship Forum of UGM Held "Sago" Seminar
- Djamaludin Ancok: Past Leadership Model Potential for Human Resource Development
- Permahi Holds National Seminar and Congress
- Directorate of Planning and Development Held Simabeka Training
- Himadika Holds Seminar on Archival Management