CALL FOR PAPERS

International Order Beyond the Pandemic: Repositioning of the Global South

Covid-19 has brought about far-reaching impacts that transform the world extremely fast and in unprecedented scalability. This is further complicated by the rise of emerging powers, continued tensions between great powers, global precarity, uneven access to technologies, and threats posed by climate change. In such a rapidly changing global order, these complex trends are constitutive to making a new international order, whether it would create a more democratic, just, and peaceful world—or otherwise. How do Global South reposition themselves and generate solutions to the existing challenges?

Cordially invites you to submit your paper discussing the following themes:

- CONTESTING RESILIENCE: PANDEMIC, DEVELOPMENT, AND RESISTANCE
- THEORISING THE GLOBAL SOUTH: REPRESENTATION, MORAL BASIS, AND REALPOLITIK
- SOUTH-SOUTH COOPERATION AND THE RECONFIGURATION OF GEOPOLITICS
- DIGITAL GLOBAL DEVELOPMENT: FROM DIGITAL INEQUALITY TO DIGITAL JUSTICE
- CLIMATE JUSTICE AND ENVIRONMENTAL ISSUES IN GLOBAL SOUTH
